Nine Men Join Army Air Corps

Inducted as Group Apr. 22 To Serve as Flying War Officers

In a brief but impressive ceremony held at 1:00 p. m. last Wednesday afternoon, nine men from Middlebury were inducted into the U. S. Army Air corps to raise to 28 the number of undergraduates that have enlisted in the armed services since the beginning of the year.

Those who were sworn in were William D. Emery '42, Robert W. Halligan '42, Robert E. Pierce '42, Burchard M. Day '44, Robert Liebert '44, Byron W. Miller '44, and Frederick C. Kelly '45. In addition, Allen J. Cobb ex '41, and E. J. Houghton, chemistry instructor, were also inducted.

The oath was administered by Captain Flint of the U. S. Army Air corps and head of the examining board, directly outside of Gifford hall. The men had previously passed a mental examination on Monday, April 20, and a physical test on the following day.

Granted Furlough

The inductees were immediately granted a ninety day furlough with the provision that they may be called to duty any time before the expiration of that period. At the end of that period they will probably be sent to Maxwell field in Alabama where they will undergo a six weeks' training period. When this is completed, the men will take another physical examination, more rigid than the one which they have already passed. If the examination is successful, they will be commissioned at once as aviation cadets, fully prepared for flight action.

Other Enlistees

Other undergraduates who have recently enlisted in the armed forces are Frank D. Blizard '42, John L. Comstock '42, Robert S. Maxwell '42, Dwight F. Smith '42, John C. Lundrigan '43, and Stephen G. Wilson '43, all of whom have enrolled in the U. S. marine corps; and Russell P. Dale '43 has joined the army.

Although there is no accurate record of the exact number of alumni that are participating in the services, Edgar J. Wiley, alumni secretary, has estimated that at least 175 Middlebury graduates are at present under arms. Grover Burrows '40, and C. J. Goodhouse ex '41 are Middlebury alumni serving with the armed forces known to have been killed on duty.

Debating Team Active In Four Away Contests

Members of the Middlebury college men's and women's debating teams made their final debate trip of the school season last week to Bates college and the University of Maine. Leaving Monday, April 20, the group returned on Thursday.

At Bates the topic under discussion was whether or not a liberal arts education meets the needs of modern life. The women's team took the negative of this debate, which was non-decision. The men did not participate in the discussion.

Both the men and women debated at the University of Maine. The women spoke on the negative side of this non-decision debate also. Their topic was, "Resolved; that women should be permitted to be combatant pilots in the air force." The men took the affirmative side of a question dealing with the eight points of the Atlantic Charter.

These debates were conducted in the Oregon style. By this method, the topic is presented and then there is cross-questioning followed by a final summary of the points made.

Making the trip were Prof. Perley C. Perkins, coach of debate, Charles Pressman '44, John E. Unterecker '44, Barbara B. Highan '43, Elisabeth vonThurn '43, and Josephine A. Kirk '45.

Men In Air Corps

Nourse '43, Cowgill '43 Are Junior Marshals By Choice Of Seniors

James B. Nourse and Nancy L. Cowgill will serve as junior marshals during the activities of the 1942 senior week.

Runners-up in a ballot by members of the senior class in chapel last week, Nourse and Miss Cowgill will replace Richard S. Morehouse and Elisabeth vonThurn, who headed the election but will be unable to remain at Middlebury for senior week.

The election of two members of the junior class to act as honorary marshals during commencement proceedings and senior week is an annual tradition at Middlebury. The marshals take part in the graduation exercises by conducting the lines of graduating seniors to their places.

28 To Compete For Scholarships

Aptitude Examinations and Interviews to Determine Winners of Vermont Aid

Twenty-eight boys will come to Middlebury from all sections of Vermont next Sunday, May 3, to take the competitive Vermont scholarship examinations to be given here May 4.

Six scholarships are to be awarded on the basis of the Monday morning test and the decision of a five-man board which will interview the applicants during the afternoon. Members of the board are Carelton H. Simmons, Dr. Elbert C. Cole, Edgar J. Wiley, Pres. Paul D. Moody, and Dean Ennis B. Womack.

The boys expected to take the test are Boleslof P. Birsky, Constantine M. Broutsas, Arthur E. Clifford, Paul H. Gale, Reginald P. Goddard, W. Neal Hoadley, Philip G. Hull, Dean Humphrey, Albert A. Ingalls, Richard W. Lepper, William A. Lyster, Francis H. Mattison, F. Guilford Myrick, Jr., Edward C. Nash, Allan H. O'Neil, T. Edison Paterson, Harry C. Parrigo, John M. Perry, Albert J. Plante, Mark D. Prindle, Charles J. Puksta, Harry G. Remington, Glenn A. Sears, Warren M. Slocum, Ernest R. Stacey, Wallace F. Veaudry, Clement C. Ward, and Robert K. Ward.

Faculty Members To Lead Post-War Discussion On May 1

Five faculty members will lead the fourth and last round table discussion at 7:45 this Sunday evening in Hepburn hall.

Professors Claude L. Bourcier, Werner Neuse, and Kurt R. Petshek will deal with the post-war political and economic problems that will arise in Europe, and suggest some possible means of solution.

At the conclusion of these talks, Professors Allen M. Cline and Robert W. Rafuse will discuss the relationship of the United States to the rest of the world and criticize plans that have been suggested.

Class Presidents To Be Platou '45 And Benedict '44

Women of the classes of 1944 and 1945 elected their officers for the next year at class meetings within the last week, the sophomores on Friday, April 24, and the freshmen last Monday.

Thirza W. Benedict will be the president of next year's junior class; Ingrid H. Monk, vice president; Jean C. Voss, secretary; Muriel E. Roome, treasurer; and Harriet A. Bartels, social representative.

The sophomore class of next year will be headed by Barbara S. Platou as president; Shirley E. Miller, vice president; Alice B. Southworth, secretary; Charlotte P. Hickcox, treasurer; and H. Elise VanLeuven as social representative.

Outgoing officers of the sophomore class are Mary D. Sparks, president; Jeanne Chatfield, vice president; Harriet A. Lindenberger, secretary; Dorothy M. Cleary, treasurer; and Lois A. Hanchett, social representative.

Charlotte Hickcox '45 Wins Marian L. Young Memorial Scholarship

Charlotte P. Hickcox '45 was awarded the Marian L. Young scholarship of $100 in chapel last Friday by Mrs. John T. Andrews. The scholarship is given on the basis of interest and participation in W.A.A. activities, scholarship, and character. It was established in 1938 in memory of Marian L. Young, head of the Physical Education department, who was killed in an automobile accident.

Members of the committee which awarded the scholarship were Miss Eleanor S. Ross, Dean of Women; Miss Mary S. Rosevear, associate professor of physical education for women; Mrs. John T. Andrews, chairman of the Marian L. Young committee; Mrs. Howard M. Mumford, alumnae secretary; and Miss Lois R. Grandy '42, president of W.A.A.

Beth M. Warner '43 received the scholarship the first year it was given. Last year it was awarded to Doris A. Orth '44.

NEUTRAL MEN PLAN NEW ORGANIZATION

Discussion of a proposed constitution for the neutral men of Middlebury college was the business of a meeting of neutrals held last Monday night in the Gifford library.

Led by Jared S. Wend '42, the men discussed and proposed changes in the constitution which has been posted for reading on the Munroe bulletin board.

Organization of the neutral men was precipitated by the amendment to the constitution of the Undergraduate association providing for representation in the Men's Assembly by fraternities.

Council Elects Officers; Assembly Men Chosen

Seniors May Have Cars Starting May 1

Requirements Must Be Met By Students Wanting To Keep Cars

The senior privilege to have cars in Middlebury is again granted. Because of the shortened semester, this privilege will begin May 1 and will continue for the remainder of the year. The regulations, which are the same as those in effect in previous years, are as follows:

Seniors who are in good standing with the college may, upon obtaining the sanction of their dean, have permission to maintain cars in Middlebury.

The expression "in good standing with the college" is understood to mean that the student is not on probation for any reason and has all cut privileges intact.

Certain qualifications must be complied with as follows:

1. The written permission of the parent or guardian must be obtained.
2. The permission of the dean must be obtained.
3. The car must be registered with the dean.
4. The car is to be driven only by the person in whose name it is registered.
5. Proper garage or parking space must be arranged with the dean.

This privilege may be withdrawn at any time if abused. The student body should recognize this as a senior privilege and abide by it accordingly.

Undergraduates who during their college course violate the car regulation automatically exclude themselves from ever having this senior privilege.

Shea '43, Harris '44 Elected As Officers Of Next Year's Blue Key

The Blue Key, honorary society of the men's college, last Thursday elected Edward E. Shea '43 to be their next president. At the same election George O. Harris '44, recently tapped for membership in the organization, was made secretary-treasurer.

Shea will replace Richard Davis '42 who has served as president during the past year, and Harris will assume the duties of M. Scott Eakeley, retiring secretary - treasurer.

The new officers were selected after chapel Thursday at an informal meeting of this year's Blue Key members, together with the new members recently tapped for next year. There will be no initiation ceremony.

J. A. Young '43 Named As Interfraternity Head Tuesday Night

RUSHING SYSTEM TO BE SIMPLIFIED

Elections for the president of the Interfraternity council were held last night, and those for new Assembly representatives took place Monday evening in the Men's college.

John A. Young '43 was elected president of the Interfraternity council, William R. Engesser '43, vice president, and Paul D. Davis '44, secretary-treasurer yesterday. The following sophomores were recently elected by their fraternities to council membership: Paul D. Davis, Horace J. DePodwin, Harold H. Hollister, Joseph Kissick Jr., William D. Neale, Thomas W. Rooney, Robert I. Schrack, and Charles R. Wilcox.

A committee composed of Engesser, Harry Rossi '43, and Davis has been formed to complete plans for a simplified and shortened rushing system for next year. Prof. Stephen A. Freeman will meet members of the council Friday night to discuss the possibilities of a preferential system.

Representatives

Six fraternities selected Assembly representatives under the new elections system at meetings last Monday night.

Alpha Sigma Phi elected the following representatives: Thomas F. Creuss '44, Philip R. Grant '44, Allan H. Kelley '44, and Robert E. Reuman '44. The new representatives of Beta Kappa are: Ralph S. Crawshaw '43, Robert P. Darrow '44, Charles R. Wilcox '44, and Robert C. Clement '45.

Chi Psi elected two representatives, William F. Ericson '43 and Thomas A. MacDonald '43. Delta Kappa Epsion elected the following: William M. Desmond '44, George O. Harris '44, George S. Harris '44.

The Delta Upsilon representatives will be Edward T. Peach '43, John A. Young '43, Harold H. Hollister '44 and Roy H. Kinsey '45.

The representatives of Kappa Delta Rho and Sigma Alpha will be elected this week. Sigma Phi Epsilon elected the following: Armand A. Annunziata '43, George F. Wiemann '44, William R. Engesser '43, and James J. Conley '45.

The neutral men, entitled to four representatives, have yet to elect their representatives.

Under the new elections system whereby each fraternity and the neutral body elect four representatives, three of the men will live in the dormitories, as designated by the executive council of the assembly, and will be next year's proctors in those dormitories.

Vermont Symphony Gives Annual Concert Directed By Alan Carter

by David H. Wood '43

Middlebury heard its annual concert of the Vermont Symphony orchestra under the direction of Alan Carter, on Wednesday, April 22, but this year there proved to be a different spirit present. There was a well-filled hall and an eager audience, but the eagerness was the determined effort of people, college students as well as the most sophisticated of concert-goers, to escape from the everyday world, via music.

In this they were not disappointed. The program contained nothing which was extremely remarkable, yet one felt it was an ideal program for the time. Melodically cheerful and refreshing as ever, for example, was the lyric interpretation given to Schubert's Unfinished Symphony. This work showed the excellent coordination of the orchestra as a whole, which is but one feature of this unique organization.

Easily the outstanding rendition of the evening was the Sibelius tone poem, The Swan of Tuonela. The strength and excellence of the string section of the orchestra was shown to its best advantage in this work, which is a masterpiece of orchestral writing in "black and white" tones.

In place of a featured composition with solo performer, the Vermont Symphony presented the orchestral fairy tale, Peter and the Wolf, by the Russian composer, Prokofieff. While this was new to a number of persons, yet it maintained at least a part of its first-hearing charm for those to whom it was familiar. One feels here that this is Russian composition at its lightest and perhaps most satirical point.

The remainder of the program contained some of the lighter favorites which are always satisfactory. The Strauss waltz, Tales From the Vienna Woods, was well done, a little pathetic in its gayety of a dead city, perhaps, but still as lustreful as Strauss at his best. The orchestral arrangement of the Golliwog's Cake Walk has never been so successful as the original from the Children's Corner, in catching the subtle and highly pleasing harmonics of Debussy.

On the whole, it was a satisfying concert, for the quality of the music, for the clear demonstration of the role music may play in a world situation such as ours, and also for the opportunity of seeing our own native talent at work in a great genre.

CHARLES BAKER WRIGHT

Thirty years ago this month, Professor Wright and I were talking about the recent death of a very close friend of us both. And then he said, in substance, that amidst the mystery and sorrow of death there was to be found the truth that it was the greatest of all adventures. One went alone into the unknown. And now he has gone out upon that adventure himself after living out his life more richly and completely than few have been privileged to do in the serenity of quiet days.

This was a little college of hardly fifty students when he came to it in 1885. Almost all its virtue lay in the men who were its teachers. They were knitted into the lives of their students "with bonds of perdurable toughness." Professor Wright taught us the graces of life as revealed in our English literature; he opened to our imaginations the vistas of beauty that great poetry affords; he showed us "by precept and example" the delights of endeavoring to write well about the world we live in; he prized the well-wrought sentence; he delighted in the nuances and the broad effects of humor. When he read us Shakespeare he brought both poetry and character to life; and when he read us Huckleberry Finn the Mississippi became a river of rollicking adventure, biting satire, and tender pathos.

But it is not right to separate the teacher from the man. There was a touch of iron in his soul, an uncompromising attitude toward sham and all evil thinking. He challenged the best that was in each of us. Take him all in all, he was a man, and because he was a man we loved him.

Prof. Frank W. Cady

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

With the Men's college and within it, Middlebury fraternities are to enter a struggle for existence and these are no days to have Middlebury men lose faith in their organizations. In this respect it is gratifying to have the Interfraternity council elect a strong man for its president.

As his main project President Young plans to see that all fraternities survive the war and, if the present war is going to resemble the last one in respect to fraternities, this problem will be the main one which will confront the council.

The council plans to simplify its rules and to change the rushing system. Some of the present rules cannot be enforced and are about as effective as the Blue laws of the last century would be if the administration attempted to enforce them.

The present rushing system is a poor one and if it is changed, as it will be if the council rids itself of the procrastination which was so characteristic of the old, a change can hardly be for the worse. There is at least a good chance that a new system will relieve much of the mud-slinging and hard feelings which are possible from the present system.

In line with relieving the hard feelings from among the fraternities, Young plans to revive the old system of having exchange dinner dates. Under the new president there is a chance that the council will become one of the strongest, instead of one of the weakest and least respected organizations on the campus.

NOTICES

Scholarship applications are available at the Dean's office and must be filled out and returned by May 15.

Notice about majors. It is now time for freshmen to decide upon their field of planned study. They will find their advisers' cards with the faculty member who advised them last September, who will help them decide upon their majors. Freshmen should attend to this at once.

Room drawing for the Men's College is scheduled in the Dean's office, as follows:

Juniors—Monday, May 4th, at 1:10.

Sophomores — Tuesday, May 5th, at 1:10.

Freshmen—Thursday, May 7th, at 1:10.

No reservation will be made without a deposit of $5.00 in advance. This amount will be refunded to any student who later decides that he does not want the room, provided that a notice of withdrawal is received in the Dean's office before August 1, 1942.

All women planning to live in college dormitories next year must deposit $10 at the office of the Dean of Women by May 1. Dates of room drawing for the Women's college will be announced as soon as possible.

Competitive essays for the Deacon Boardman Peace prize, on the subject of "Peaceful Settlement of International Disputes," must be turned in to Mrs. Powell at the President's office by 5 p.m. Friday.

Mr. Peter Walton requests his art students to collect all their materials at his home before May 9.

Prof. John G. Bowker is now faculty advisor on military matters in place of Prof. Waldo H. Heinrichs and is in contact with the plans of the various services. His office is Munroe 204.

Unique Auction To Take Place This Saturday

by J. Allen Robinson

Professors of economics take notice! Profitmindedness and the patriotic spirit hand in hand: That's the newest and most novel brainstorm for Defense, or rather for Victory, that has yet arisen at Middlebury. This latest wrinkle will be smoothed out for you doubters this Saturday p.m. at 1:30 o'clock, on the steps of McCullough gym. What is it? It's a real old-time auction sale, made modern as only Midd merchandisers can.

The object is three-fold. First, we want to help win the war. This will be accomplished by using profits of this unprecedented sale to buy defense bonds (don't mind the optimism) which will help to swell the new Victory Scholarship fund.

Secondly, we're giving our soldiers-and - sailors - to - be - in - the - very - near-future a chance to sell some of their personal belongings before they go into uniform. Just think of the possibilities of this!

No Use For Skis

Just imagine a poor ex-Middlebury man trying to use his skis and ski boots aboard a battleship! And no matter what the sentimental attachment that old bull-session armchair might have for the newly appointed Naval Aviation cadet, he's going to have one heckuva time persuading the Admiral to let him use it in his little seaplane, or even aboard a patrol bomber for that matter. The Old Midd Spirit is all right, but there'll be a limit to it when the draftee tries to hang up his Blue and White Midd banner atop his ten-ton tank.

Then there's the question of clothes. To the lad who takes pride in his Esquire tendencies, it is sad but true that Uncle Sam takes care of all sartorial situations in his Army and Navy.

Exchange for Defense

There are many such articles which will be of no use to service men. There are also many lucky ones who will stay in school and who would like to make use of them. So why not effect the exchange, and let the Defense Stamp Minute man run away with the middleman's profits? Anyway, that's the set-up for next Saturday.

From our latest information on the subject, it will be Theodore R. Ogden '42 who will wield the gavel. He and brainstorming associates, Stevenson and Fox, both '44, have been making the rounds for saleable goods. Anyone who would like to have an article sold, and who is willing to relinquish 10 percent of the return for the benefit of the Victory Bond Scholarship fund, should contact them.

BETA KAPPA AND THETA CHI MERGE IN NATIONAL MOVE

The Middlebury Epsilon chapter of Beta Kappa fraternity will become Beta Mu of Theta Chi at an installation service on May 9. The change is in connection with a national merger between Beta Kappa and Theta Chi.

Announcement of the merger was made at the B. K. formal dance last Saturday night by James G. Clark '43, president of the chapter.

A wide majority of the chapters of both national fraternities have approved the measure, and arrangements have been completed. Installation ceremonies will be given by all member chapters this spring or next fall.

With this combination of the two fraternities, the Theta Chi will become the twelfth largest national Greek letter society in the United States. There will 72 chapters of Theta Chi in 33 states, with a total membership of over 23,000 men.

Nine chapters are located in New England, the nearest being the chapter at Norwich. The universities of Maine and New Hampshire, M. I. T., Dartmouth, Worchester Polytechnic Institute, Massachusetts State, Rhode Island State, Syracuse, R. P. I., Colgate, and Cornell are some of the other chapters in this region.

The Middlebury chapter of Beta Kappa was stablished in 1925.

President Of Wesleyan To Speak Here Sunday

Dr. James Lukens McConaughy, president of Wesleyan college in Middletown, Connecticut, will address the student body in Mead chapel this Sunday, May 3.

Dr. McConaughy attended many colleges, including Dartmouth and Wesleyan, and received his B.A. at Yale, M.A. at Bowdoin college, Ph.D. at Columbia university, and LL.D. at Williams and Trinity. Since then he has taught at several colleges, including Dartmouth, Knox college and Wesleyan college.

Dr. McConaughy became president of Wesleyan college in 1925. Since 1935 he has been Lieutenant Governor of the state of Connecticut.

BALL TEAM SETS BACK ST. MIKE'S 7-2

Winooski Park, April 28—Taking a one run lead in the first inning, Middlebury's baseball team went on to play good ball behind Bill Desmond's nine hit pitching and win over St. Mike's 7 to 2 today.

The Panthers were never headed, for they scored two runs in the second, one in the third, one in the fourth, and two in the eighth. Des struck out four and only walked two, and the defense committed but two errors.

Big guns of the Blue and White attack were Eddie Flemming with three solid singles in four trips to the plate, Ed Shea with a triple and single and three runs batted in, Cap Yeomans with a double and a long single, Johnny Prukop with two good singles in three times up. Bob Sheehan came through with a double and Bish Bishop hit a single to complete the hitting for the day.

It was a tight ball game all the way, with Midd coming through in the pinches to score a well-deserved win and its first win in state competition in four years.

Sports Calendar For This Week

The Panther track team will run their final meet, against U.V.M., next Wednesday, May 6th, at Middlebury. This meet will express the efforts of a season's training and guarantees to be full of action. Probably the same men will run as in former meets.

Highlights of the meet will probably be the short races with Cap't Jack facing the U.V.M. leader, Burt Mott.

The Tennis Team who played Colgate yesterday, will travel on to Hamilton college for a match today. Their next tourney will be with U. V. M. on Saturday, May 2nd, at Burlington. The team is now able to hold regular practice, and is developing rapidly.

Over the coming weekend, the baseball squad will travel into New York state, to play Clarkson Tech on Friday, May 1st, and then St. Lawrence college on Saturday. They also are playing a game at R. P. I. today.

You can serve your country best by acting on this new Navy Plan now!

YOU WANT to fight for your country! Are you willing to work for it? To toughen yourself physically? To train yourself mentally for a real job in the United States Navy? If you are, the Navy wants you to enlist now. You don't have to quit college. You can stay in college, continue your studies to prepare for active duty in the air or on the sea.

And your college will help you do it! In cooperation with the Navy, it offers all freshmen and sophomores who are seventeen and not yet twenty, special training that may win for you the coveted Wings of Gold of a Naval Aviation Officer or a commission as a Deck or Engineering Officer.

How to Become an Officer

To get this special Navy training, you enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman. Then you may continue in college, but you will include special courses stressing physical development, mathematics and physics. After you successfully complete 1½ calendar years in college, you will be given a classification test.

Aviation Officers

If you qualify by this test, you may volunteer to become a Naval Aviation Officer. In this case, you will be permitted to finish the second calendar year of college work before you start your training to become a Flying Officer.

However, at any time during this two-year period, you may have the option to take immediately the prescribed examination for Aviation Officer... and, if successful, be assigned for Aviation training. Students who fail in their college courses or who withdraw from college will also have the privilege of taking the Aviation examination. Applicants who fail to qualify in this test will be ordered to active duty as Apprentice Seamen.

Deck or Engineering Officers

Those who qualify in the classification test and do not volunteer for Aviation will be selected for training to be Deck or Engineering Officers. In that case, you will continue your college program until you receive your bachelor's degree, provided you maintain the established university standards.

Those whose grades are not high enough to qualify them for Deck or Engineering Officer training will be permitted to finish their second calendar year of college. After this, they will be ordered to duty as Apprentice Seamen, but because of their college training, they will have a better chance for rapid advancement. At any time, if a student should fail in his college courses, he may be ordered to active duty as an Apprentice Seaman.

Pay starts with active duty.

It's a real challenge! It's a real opportunity! Make every minute count by doing something about this new Navy plan today.

Kellymen Meet Twin Defeat By U.V.M., Union

Cats Take Midd 17-13; Maroon Scores 7-4 Win

In a game very well labeled "A Tragedy of Errors" the University of Vermont defeated the Blue and White here last Friday. Coach Kelly's charges came up with more than their share of these errors in the 17-13 slugfest.

Bill Desmond started on the mound for the Panthers but his side-arm pitching, usually effective, got him into trouble very quickly. Sysko, the first man up singled through short. Then Killick doubled over first, Sysko going to third. Wood, the next batter, tripled scoring two men. But Des settled down and got the next three batters.

In Midd's half of the third, Sheehan doubled scoring Desmond and Rooney to tie up the ball game. Then in the fourth Prukop and Rooney reached on errors and Ed Shea dropped a Texas-League hit to short left to score Pruky. Sheehan hit another double to send in Rooney, and then came home himself on Yeomans' grounder.

Cats Take Lead

The first of the fifth spelled trouble for Dezy as he gave out two hits, two walks, a passed-ball, and a hit batter for five runs, putting the Cats in the lead 7-5.

The Green and Gold picked up two more runs in the sixth to make the tally 9-5. Then Midd got three runs in their half of the inning to close the gap to 9-8.

The final disaster came for Dezy in the first of the seventh as U.V.M. drove home six more runs and Bill was relieved by George Weimann. At this time Urban replaced Earle Bishop as catcher. Desmond received poor support from his teammates for ten of the eleven errors were made while he was twirling.

Weimann gave out two runs in the first of the eighth as West singled over second with two aboard. Then Midd came back with two runs in their half and added three more in the 9th to make the final score of 17-13.

UNION 7 MIDDLEBURY 4

Scoring four runs in the third on two hits, two walks, a passed ball and an error, Union college's baseball team topped Middlebury last Wednesday in the first home game of the season on the local diamond by a score of 7 to 4.

Three costly errors and the failure to hit with men on base brought about defeat for the Panthers.

Capt. Ed Yeomans led the Blue and White attack with three for three—a single, double, and triple. Hal Skinner kept the Union hits fairly well scattered, but the disasterous third inning led to his defeat by Bartlett, the Union pitcher.

Yeoman's Triple Scores Two

Midd showed promise of good defensive play in the first inning when a snappy Young to Sheehan to Yeomans double play ended a Union scoring threat. Ed Yeomans made a spectacular catch of Sheehan's hurried throw while falling to the ground on this play.

Midd came back in its half of the third to score two runs as Skinner opened the inning with a single, Shea singled off the shortstop's glove, and Yeomans blasted a terrific triple to score both runners. Union scored a run in the fifth on a single and an error, but Midd retaliated with a run on Rooney's double, two walks, a force play and an infield out.

The visitors scored two more runs in the sixth on Quigley's single, and Reilly's and Allen's doubles. In the home half of the seventh Cap Yeomans drove in his third run of the afternoon when he doubled home Eddie Shea who had singled. A last half of the ninth rally almost materialized when Rooney singled, Shea forced him, and Yeomans singled. But Sheehan's bid for a hit was stopped by Phillips, Union left fielder, who raced in to catch his low liner to end the game.

Middlebury Beaten On RPI Track

Panthers Weakest in Field Events; Stebbins Cops 440, Half-Mile

ENGINEERS SHADE CINDERMEN 66.9-59.1

Although paced by Dave Stebbins with two middle distance victories and Capt. Jack Bates with a first and two seconds, the Panther cindermen went down to defeat by a margin of seven points at the hands of R. P. I. last Saturday on the winner's field.

Final tabulations showed that R. P. I. had accumulated 66.9 points to Midd's 59.1. Middlebury lost its points, and R. P. I. consequently gained the advantage mainly in the field, but also the strength on the track which the Blue and White used to good advantage against former opponents was equaled by R. P. I.

Dave Stebbins left the field far behind in the quarter and half mile runs. In the former, Midd swept the event with Bangs, second and F. Hawkes, third. Neither time was particularly good, but this was due to lack of competition and a slow track.

Bates Scores 11 Points

Capt. Jack Bates rolled up eleven points to raise his three meet total to 42, an average of 14 points per meet. Bates took the 220 low hurdles in the good time of 0:25s flat which involved rounding one turn to get into the home stretch. He took second in the 100 yard dash hard on the heels of R. P. I.'s vaunted speedster, Lewinson, who broke the tape in 0:10.2. Bates also gained a second in the broad jump.

Midd-frosh George Morse ran his best mile to date as he completed the four laps in 4:38.6. Lew Haines captured third for the Middmen and R.P.I.s' Hartley took second. Morse had no one to push him on the last two laps.

Hal Hollister came through again to take the javelin event with a throw of 160 feet 4 1-4 inches. Hollister's performance in this contest has been good throughout the season. Three first places in three meets are accredited him for throwing the javelin.

The broad jump fell to Tom Rooney as he leaped 21 feet 8 1-2 inches. Jack Bates took second and Hanley of R.P.I., third.

The Middlebury pole vaulters faced the sternest competition of the year in the Engineers' Dukes who cleared the bar at 11 feet 3 inches. His team mate, Warner copped second, and Bob Willets of Midd tied for third with another R.P.I. man, Jenkins.

Lewinson, the R.P.I. sprinter, showed a pair of fast heels to the Middlebury sprint men as he captured both the 100 dash and the 220. In the 100, Bates took second with Buettner of Midd third. Lewinson's time for the 220 (around one turn) was 0:23 flat. Buettner and Hollister took second and third in that order.

Two Lecturers To Speak About Current Affairs

Two speakers on widely varying fields will visit Middlebury on May 4 and 5 to address the student body. Dr. Herane Tavares do Sa, Brazilian educator and journalist, will lecture on a South American topic, and Rabbi Bernard J. Bamberger, from the Congregation Beth Emeth in Albany, New York, will speak on "When Philosophers Were Kings."

Dr. Herane do Sa is a close student of international affairs and a contributor to Journal do Brazil, second largest newspaper of that country.

Professor of Biology at the University of Sao Paulo and Professor of Educational Biology at the Faculty of Philosophy at Sao Bento, Dr. do Sa represents both institutions. The hour and place of his lecture will be announced in chapel.

Rabbi Bamberger will speak to the Contemporary Civilization classes on the subject of "Zionism," May 4 and 5. He will lecture in Mead Memorial chapel on May 5 at 8:15 p. m.

Isabel M. Grier Chosen As President of W.A.A. At Meeting on Tuesday

Isabel B. Grier '43 was elected president of W.A.A. for the school year of 1942-43 by members of the Association yesterday. Other officers chosen were Doris A. Orth '44, vice president; Charlotte P. Hickcox '45, secretary; Georgia R. Childs '43, treasurer; and Dorothy E. Ayers '44, custodian.

W. A. A. spring sports are in full swing. The tennis tournament is now in its second round. Archery started Friday and there will be a competitive match during the last week of college. Scftball games are progressing as scheduled. On April 24 the freshmen won over the sophomores by a score of 13-9. On April 27 the juniors scored a victory over the freshman. Several other softball games between the different classes are planned.

R.P.I.s' fast boy Harding in the two mile run beat out Dick Kinsey in a last lap sprint which was clocked at 10:59.6 seconds. Kinsey went out in front for seven and one half laps with Harding taking up a position one yard to the rear. Kinsey tried to beat off the last lap kick of the R. P. I. runner, but he forged ahead to win by several yards.

Barclay of R.P.I. captured first place in the 120 yard high hurdles in the good time of 0:15.4. Cliff Backup and Bill Hawkes took second and third respectively for Midd.

BY THE WAY

by

We felt very reassured the other evening when we saw the local Home guard drilling on the athletic field. This is really the first definite sign that we have seen that Vermont is at war, although we have heard persisting rumors to that effect. We wonder whether the state guard are drilling for the national war or for Vermont's own private war with the axis. As yet no information is available as to whether Vermont is planning to send an expeditionary force of their own against the axis or not.

We see by the papers that a Seattle laundry has offered their services to decontaminate 18,000 persons at one time in case of a gas attack. This is a fine example of the ingenuity of the American people. We are rather curious about this though, since it seems rather of a stretch of the imagination to think of all these people being whirled about at once in automatic washing machines.

The price ceilings being put on everything these days make one feel a little confined. In fact, with all the talk about price ceilings and freezings and parity, we wonder if the person who hasn't anything to sell isn't the one who is going to make the profit. Although the $25,000 limit on incomes which has been proposed doesn't worry us much, we feel deeply for the poor unfortunates who will have to give up their yachts and private planes.

Apparently the War Production board still has a few yards of red tape saved up somewhere to use when it will do the most harm. It seems that one of the allied nations had 11,000 tires delivered to this country last August and stored in a warehouse. Since then the situation changed so that they could not be used by the nation buying them. It was here that they made their first mistake; they tried to sell them to the government, in fact they tried to sell them to six different agencies of the government. No sale. Then they tried to sell them in private channels. The W.P.B. wouldn't let them do this. They then wanted to use them themselves; the W.P.B. wouldn't let them do this either. Now things are so busy that they have decided the best thing to do is to leave them there until the war is over and take up the matter again then when there is more time.

DR. C. B. WRIGHT DIES, WAS FORMER DEAN

Served College 35 Years In Many Capacities

Dr. Charles Baker Wright, for 35 years professor of rhetoric and English literature at Middlebury college, died on April 24 at his home in Middlebury. Since 1920, when he retired from active teaching, he held the title of professor emeritus from the College. He was 82 years of age.

Dr. Wright wrote the words to the song "Gamaliel Painter's cane," Alma Mater of the Middlebury campus. It has become the college anthem.

First appointed to teach at the college in 1885, he received the degree of Doctor of Literature from Middlebury in 1915. He also studied before coming to Middlebury at Johns Hopkins university, where he was a friend of Woodrow Wilson.

Serving as dean of the College from 1913 to 1918, Dr. Wright was acting president while Pres. John M. Thomas was away from the campus for a period of time.

For many years Dr. Wright was a deacon of the Middlebury Congregational church.

TONE, LITERARY CLUB PLAN JOINT PICNIC AS FINAL EVENT OF YEAR

A joint picnic by the Literary club and Tone will be the closing event of the year for both those organizations. Final meetings will be held this week, the Literary club tonight and Tone Friday night, to make plans for the picnic; Tone will also elect next year's officers.

At the Literary club tonight, at 8 o'clock in Hepburn social hall, members, after concluding business, will discuss two poems: "The Listeners," by Walter de la Mare, and "In the Station at the Metro," by Ezra Pound. This discussion, the last of the year, will be led by George W. Sullivan '43, president.

Tone will complete its first year of existence at a final business meeting Friday in the Music studio, beginning at 8 o'clock. The members will elect officers for next year and discuss plans for the joint picnic. Warren J. Hassmer '43, president, will preside.

Netmen Lose In Opening Meets

Midd Drops Both Matches To Williams, Amherst By 6-3 Score

Last week Midd's tennis team lost its opener to Williams on Thursday, and dropped a second match to Amherst on Friday. Both matches were 6-3 losses for the Panthers.

In the Williams encounter, the Ephmen took five out of the six singles matches, but Midd won two of the three doubles matches. In the singles, Charlie Baird beat Bob Dawson: 7-5, 3-6, 9-7. Lew Haines played a fast match, but lost to Hunt of Williams after a score of 6-3, 8-6.

In the doubles, Midd's racquetmen showed their worth, with Lew Haines and Charlie Proctor taking their opponents over by a 6-2, 2-6, 6-2 score. The other doubles was won by Phil Dunham and "Albie" Robinson with a score of 6-0, 7-5.

The following day, at Amherst Midd's singles matches were somewhat stronger, with Tom McDonald and Charlie Baird each winning their match. Again in the doubles the freshmen held their own, Phil and "Albie" defeated the opposition 6-4, 6-3. So far these two men have shown well, both in practice and in tournaments.

Intramurals

In what turned out to be, not a complete rout but a slugfest between S.P.E. and Theta Chi, formerly B.K., the latter won 18-16 yesterday in Intramural softball. D.K.E. lost another game played this week to Chi Psi, 10-6.

In golf, the contestants are in the second round while first round drawings for tennis have been made.

So This Is College!

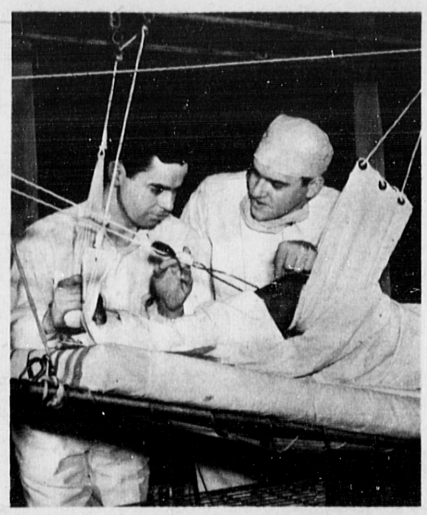
The first purpose of a university is to provide education, but it the secondary purpose of a university or college that differentiat any one school or class of schools.

The University of Louisville stands as a symbol of the nation municipal institutions, and as such, it is characterized by its se ond purpose . . . "to serve the community far beyond the bou daries of formal education alone".

Founded in 1837, the University of Louisville was the cou try's first municipal university, and Louisville, Ky., became th first city to assume partial responsibility for higher education. A a municipal school, the university receives approximately one third of its annual budget from city taxes and is administered by Board of Trustees appointed by the City Council. But typical municipal schools, the University of Louisville does not depen entirely upon the local population for its enrollment. About 8 per cent of the students come from the city and 90 per cent a Kentuckians. The remaining percentage represents almost eve state in the country and several foreign nations.

In serving the community, municipal schools take an activ part in social welfare, the arts, industry, business, health, gover ment and education. This service is carried on by means of form affiliation, close working relationship, frequent counsel and a sistance and by the activities of faculty members.

Where a school is located in a municipality active in war work, engineering majors have many co-op assignments in war industries. This work has provided added experience for U. of L. students.



Medical students get varied experience at the City Hospital. This service provides unique advantages to both student and patients alike. The hospital is staffed by the university.

The Parent City Is Big Classroom . . .

. . . for a municipal university. Both in curriculum and method the University of Louisville takes advantage of this metropolitan laboratory. There is a close cooperation between school and community with beneficial results to both. A high percentage of U. of L. graduates fill the ranks of Louisville's professions.

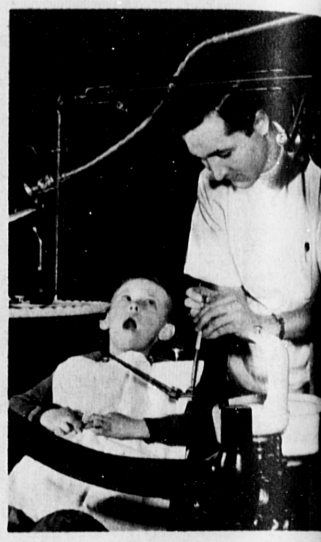
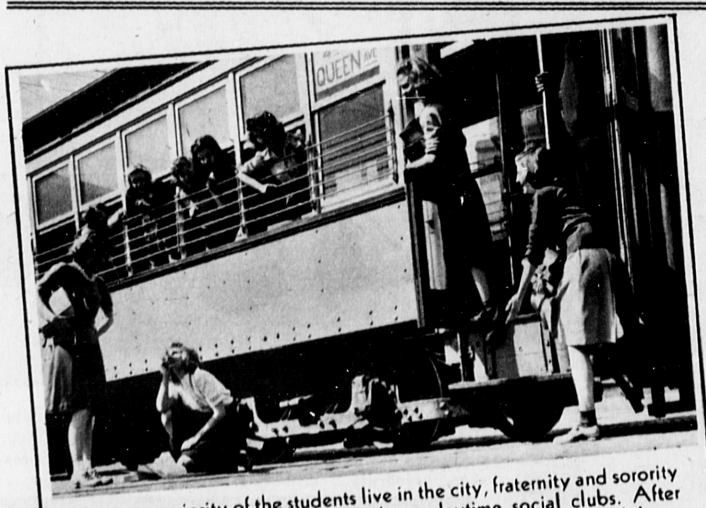
The university has been designated as one of 140 key centers of war information and training. Students maintain a War Information Library.

Discussing problems with clients of the Legal Aid Society is a regular part of the training of Law School students. They also have a briefing service for lawyers of the state who lack adequate library facilities.



The School of Dentistry, ____ provi dental care for some 5,000 indigent a low-income patients annually.



Because a majority of the students live in the city, fraternity and sorority houses are smaller and serve mainly as daytime social clubs. After school, most students go home by street car, bus and — for a while — automobiles. Campus activities are held high in importance, and Monday is "meeting night" in all houses.

Athletics form an important part of t university program. Teams are made largely of students who played aga each other in high school contests. aim of the athletic policy is for credita sports to assume a proper place in total educational picture.

Camera Aid to Medicine — William P. Didusch, staff artist for 25 years of the Brady Institute of Urology, headed by Dr. Hugh Young, at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md., dons white gown, hat, and mask like the surgeon while taking motion pictures of operations which he simulates above. The color motion pictures, taken with telefoto lens, show the operation in clearer detail than anyone but the surgeon sees. The film is later run to students, and drawings and X-ray inserted for a complete case history study. From the film accurate sketches also can be drawn. Wide World

Co-eds Go "All Out" — There is no city in the country more imbued with war spirit than Detroit, and its big Wayne University is no exception. The 5,678 girls at Wayne have mapped a program which entails a campus-wide "all out" war effort, each girl participating in some phase of war work. Here Genevieve Repeta teaches Merian Kassel the headtow during a class in swimming and lifesaving.

Specialists in Makeup — Industry's highly organized assembly lines have nothing on this Massachusetts State College crew of makeup specialists. These co-eds, Thyrza Barton, Anita Marshall, and Marjorie Cushman, are borrowing a leaf from the mass production line technic as they apply varying stages of makeup to principals in "The Pirates of Penzance". The men students are Gordon Smith, Robert Mount, and Leon Barron. Hyman

Stevens Tech Breaks 72-Year-old Tradition by Admitting Women for Training in War Courses

The sight of women in overalls is a pleasant shock to Stevens men, who, for the first time in the Institute's 72 years of existence, are working side by side with women since the school opened its War Industries Training School.

Intended to prepare women, as well as men, for war work, the War School provides an intensive 13-week course, 40 hours per week. It includes shop practice, engineering problems and drafting, similar to parts of the curriculum of the first and second year at Stevens.

The course is free, and open to high school graduates who have had four years of English, two years of algebra and one year of geometry. Instructors are all faculty members and students have access to the regular Stevens Tech equipment.

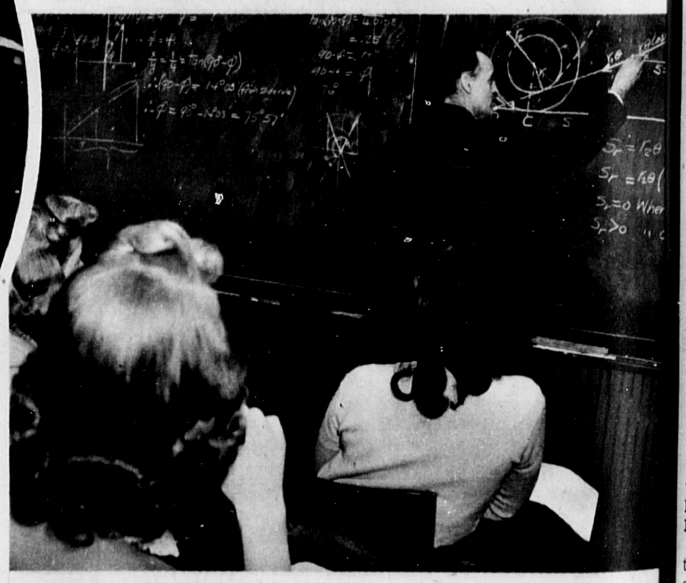
Machine Shop — Having turned it down on a lathe to its approximate size, Alice Williams precision-grinds a head stock spindle to the required final dimensions.

Wood Shop — Edna Thoma finishes a gear segment on a drill press. This pattern will afterwards be used to make a mold in the foundry, from which castings will be sent to the machine shop.

Drafting — Drafting affords an opportunity to apply the principles presented in classroom lectures. Prof. Wegle, of the department of machine design at Stevens Tech, answers Miss Thoma's question.



Lecture-Recitation—Practical applications are stressed, but the theoretical aspects of engineering are not overlooked either. A class is shown receiving instruction in engineering problems.
